Dear Ms. Dortch:

On May 16, 2007, Neville Ray, Tom Sugrue, Kathleen O'Brien Ham, Kevin Glassman, Ed Thomas, and Patrick Welsh representing T-Mobile USA, Inc. ("T-Mobile"), met with Julius Knapp, Geraldine Matise, Ira Keltz, Ron Repasi, Alan Stillwell, Jamison Prime, and Patrick Forster of the Office of Engineering and Technology, and Cathy Massey, Deputy Chief of the Wireless Telecommunications Bureau, to discuss the deployment of T-Mobile's UMTS network using Advanced Wireless Services ("AWS") spectrum.

At the meeting, T-Mobile described the importance of AWS spectrum to maintaining and improving its wireless services, its progress in deploying UMTS equipment in key markets, the challenges of relocating incumbents in the 1.7 GHz and 2.1 GHz bands, and the difficulties in coordinating the shared use of frequencies in the agencies' United States and Possessions ("US&P") assignments. T-Mobile also discussed the potential interference issues between AWS A Block (2110-2120 MHz) and Broadcast Auxiliary Services ("BAS") channel 7 (2093-2110 MHz).
